Kerajaan negeri arah MPK siasat struktur flat

PELABUHAN KLANG 12 Dis. - Kerajaan negeri Selangor telah mengarahkan Majlis Perbandaran Klang (MPK) untuk menjalankan siasatan segera ke atas struktur bangunan Flat Taman Teluk Gedung Indah, di sini, yang mengalami keretakan teruk akibat masalah mendapan tanah.

Pengerusi Perumahan Pembangunan, Pengurusan dan Kehidupan Bandar Selangor, Haniza Mohd. Talha berkata, keputusan itu dibuat selepas dibincangkan dalam mesyuarat Exco hari ini, iaitu kira-kira dua minggu selepas beliau turun padang meninjau keadaan flat berkenaan.

Jelasnya, apa juga keputusan selepas ini, ia dibuat dengan mengambil kira hasil siasatan MPK tetapi memberi jaminan, yang kerajaan negeri akan membantu menyelaraskan kebajikan penduduk dan perkara tersebut perlu dibincangkan secara terperinci dalam masa terdekat.

"Hari ini kita bermesyuarat dan keputusannya adalah meminta MPK untuk mendapatkan pihak berkaitan menyiasat struktur bangunan, kalau keputusannya nanti mendapati flat berkenaan sudah tidak selamat untuk diduduki, kita akan memaklumkan kepada pihak penduduk.

"Soal kebajikan, itu kita akan berbincang dengan MPK, pema-ju dan wakil penduduk kerana kediaman itu milik persendirian tetapi sebagai kerajaan, kita akan sentiasa mencari jalan untuk membantu," katanya ketika dihubungi Utusan Malaysia di sini hari ini.

Pada 2 Disember lalu, Haniza turun padang bertemu dengan penduduk dan melihat sendiri keadaan kediaman mereka dan memberi jaminan yang isu berkenaan akan dipanjangkan ke pengetahuan kerajaan negeri.

Khalid rapped for mooting Shah Alam local elections

PETALING JAYA: The Selangor Menteri Besar's political secretary has ticked off Federal Territories Minister Khalid Abdul Samad (pic) for suggesting that local council elections be conducted in Shah Alam.

"I think it would be wise for the Federal Territories Minister to refer to the state government before issuing any statement in relation to local council elections, especially when it involves Shah Alam which is the administrative centre of Selangor.

"Khalid Samad's position as Shah Alam MP is acknowledged, so it is only appropriate for him to refer the matter to the state government," Borhan Aman Shah said in a statement yesterday.

Prime Minister Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad had announced earlier that there would be no local council elections as it could lead to race-related conflicts in the country.

However, Malay Mail reported Khalid's suggestion of having local council elections in Shah Alam as it was a place where the race card could not be used.

Borhan added that Selangor

Menteri Besar Amirudin Shari is well aware of Dr Mahathir's statement and the proposal by Housing and Local Government Minister Zuraida Kamaruddin to conduct a comprehensive study first.

"I hope all parties can be more responsible before issuing any statement that involves the well-being of the Selangor people," he said.

In George Town, Penang will continue to push the issue of local elections to the forefront although legally it has exhausted all avenues on the matter.

Penang Chief Minister Chow Kon Yeow said it was best to leave the issue to the ministers after the statements by Dr Mahathir and Zuraida.

"Although the holding of local elections was never a part of Pakatan Harapan's manifesto, the state had pursued the matter with an enactment which was ultimately defeated in the Federal Court, thus bringing the legal avenue to a halt.

"We have been championing the local elections for more than 10 years and probably one day it might become a reality," Chow said.

Zuraida said the government was still exploring ways to implement council elections.

On the issue of the State Commission of Inquiry (SCI) into the Tanjung Bungah landslide tragedy, Chow said the second extension on the completion of the report would only expire in a few months.

"It's up to the SCI to determine a date when it would be submitted to Yang di-Pertua Negeri Tun Abdul Rahman Abbas to release the findings," he said.

MPSepang seeking good homes for dogs in pound

It says solution seen as more humane and helps council save money

Story and photos by GRACE CHEN
gracechen@thestar.com

A LOW, menacing growl was heard as a cage door at the Sepang Municipal Council (MPSepang) pound in Batu Satu was thrown open at feeding time.

Worried that it might be from an adult dog about to bite, pound caretaker Johari Ahmad looked around to find the source of the noise, only to find that it was from a small brown puppy.

Amused that the little pup could make such fearsome sound, Johari picked it up.

"This small fella is going to make a good guard dog," he said.

But the pup was among a pack of stray dogs rounded up by MPSepang's in-house dog catching unit. Under its procedure, seven days is the standard time the pound is able to accommodate caught strays. After that, the dogs will be put to sleep.

According to the MPSepang 2007 Licensing of Dogs and Kennel Establishment by-laws, dogs over the age of three months found wandering without a licence can be caught and put down by the local council.

Health and Environment Department director Kuzaini Hamidon said it was not possible to keep caught strays for a long term.

Due to the frequency of complaints, the MPSepang pound has held up to as many as 60 dogs a day, an overwhelming number for the council in terms of feeding, maintenance and manpower cost.

The council also cannot afford to ignore the problem of strays as this affects public health and safety.

"In looking for a more humane solution, MPSepang wants the public to come forward and adopt the strays in our pound.

"The benefits are two fold as the stray dogs get a chance to go to good homes and the council saves money on their feed," said Kuzaini.

The adoption procedure requires potential owners to write to the council stating their intention and where the animal will be kept. Flat and condominium dwellers are not eligible.

The maximum number of dogs permitted for premises measuring above 1,000 sqm is four, while a limit of two dogs is allowed for an area measuring less than that.

Vetted and selected candidates will be invited to the pound.

Once they have found a suitable canine, they can go home with their pooch provided they return with slips showing their pet has received vaccination shots administered by a licensed veterinarian.

Neutering is not compulsory. The new owners will then have to apply for a dog licence with a photo of the animal and a copy of the applicant's identity card.

The licence must be renewed on a yearly basis.

From what Johari said, MPSepang dog pound caretakers, unwilling to put a cute pup or otherwise healthy dog to sleep, have been finding homes for them in the nearby factories and orang asli villages who want guard dogs to watch over their property and farms.

Johari said the pound has many suitable puppies and dogs.

One case in point was of a white mongrel with its ribcage obvious.

It was found starving, wandering the streets.

"We've seen many cases like this. Just a few days and they will fatten up," said Johari.

For ease of monitoring, only applicants with a Sepang address will be considered.

"Those who want to adopt dogs from our pound will have to follow our rules," said Kuzaini.

This includes a clean living place for the dog, responsibility on the owner's part to clean up after it, does not cause a disturbance to neighbours with its incessant barking and it must be on a leash when outside the home.

A dog found wandering the streets was brought to MPSepang's pound. The council says it is not possible to keep caught strays for a long term.

Most probably the last scene a stray dog will see – a vet's table where it will be put to sleep by lethal injection.

Rural town image that's long gone

Kuala Selangor transforming into urban district without losing its historical value, says council

By ELAN PERUMAL
elan@thestar.com.my

THE Kuala Selangor District Council (MDKS) is confident its ambition to become a municipality will be realised soon.

The existence of two higher learning institutions, Universiti Teknologi Mara (UiTM) and Universiti Selangor (Unisel) complemented by the rapid development in the Puncak Alam township helps boost the district's chance in meeting this goal.

Council president Rahillah Rahmat said the district met all requirements for municipality status in tandem with its physical and economic growth.

She said the district had greatly developed over the last decade to shed its rural town image.

"Kuala Selangor is transforming from a rural town into an urban district.

"We used to be known only for our historical value in Bukit Malawati and natural content in Kuala Selangor Nature Park and Kampung Kuantan's fireflies' attraction," she said.

For a district to qualify as a municipality, its yearly revenue has to be more than RM20mil and its population must be above 150,000.

Another requirement before a district can elevate itself up the ranks is having adequate infrastructure such as highways connecting to major towns, airports and ports as well as facilities such as hospitals, secondary and primary schools and police stations.

Other must-have ingredients for municipality status are availability of higher education institutions, community halls, places of worship, bus station, playgrounds, post office, markets and housing estates.

The district, Rahillah said, was divided into three areas – the old town, new town and satellite areas.

The old town, Rahillah said encompassed the original Kuala Selangor town which was with historical value, dating back to the time when it was recognised as Selangor's capital before Kuala Langat (Jugra), Klang, Kuala Lumpur and Shah Alam.

More than 15 years ago, Bandar Baru Kuala Selangor was born along with several other new townships not far away from the old town.

She said government offices including MDKL building and district police headquarters were located in these newer areas.

"The third aspect of the gradual transformation in Kuala Selangor is the rapid development taking shape in Puncak Alam. The township has easy access to Shah Alam, Rawang and Kuala Lumpur.

"A few developers have started developing areas in MDKL's jurisdiction, and soon thousands of housing and commercial properties will be available," she said.

Besides Puncak Alam, she said high-end residential properties were also being developed in the district.

The projects, which were expected to be completed sometime next year, would enhance the district's image.

Council secretary Azman Dahlan said ongoing development in Puncak Alam would benefit the district, economically.

Azman said such developments would bring with it, infrastructure development in terms of connectivity with new roads and highways connecting the projects to other parts of the state.

He said this would increase the population as more people from other parts of the Klang Valley would invest in properties in the area.

"We have met the 150,000 population criteria for us to become a municipality. We have more than 200,000 residents now.

"MDKL has an approved balance budget of RM71mil for next year which means we definitely have met the financial criteria to become a municipality," he said, adding that the council's revenue in term of assessment collection was also expected to increase to a greater extent once the various development projects were completed.

Azman said the district was also drawing more revenue from its tourist attraction sites with international visitors coming to town.

The latest tourist lure was the Sky Mirror (Pantai Cermin) attraction which had helped heighten Kuala Selangor's image among visitors especially foreigners.

"We have two higher learning institutions – Unisel and UiTM," he said adding that Kuala Selangor also had the 18-hole Royal Kampung Kuantan Golf Club in Bukit Rotan.

The other attraction here, Azman said was the availability of fresh seafood.

"There are numerous seafood restaurants in Pasir Penambang for people to savour fresh and sumptuous dishes," he said.

Azman said attaining municipality status was also important to meet the challenges and needs of Kuala Selangor's ongoing physical and economic growth.

The municipality status, he said, would also pave the way for investors especially developers to invest in the district.

"With investments and industries setting up there, there will be job opportunities for locals," he said.

THE Kuala Lumpur Tak Nak Insinerator (KTI) group is against the Selangor government's plan to develop a waste-to-energy plant costing more than RM1bil.

KTI suggested more sustainable alternatives and questioned the agreement between state-linked company Worldwide Holdings Bhd and China-based Western Power Clean Energy Sdn Bhd.

"The incinerator plant project will release toxic gas emissions such as dioxin, which will worsen air pollution and affect the safety and health of residents.

"We want the state government to disclose all environmental impact research documents, site assessments and the residents' response as proof that the project would be well-received by the public," said KTI media director Lam Choong Wah.

On Dec 11, StarBiz reported that the Selangor government would develop Malaysia's biggest and modern waste-to-energy project at the Jeram sanitary landfill in a public-private partnership that will cost RM500mil under phase one and another RM500mil under phase two.

The second waste-to-energy plant will be built in Tanjung Dua Belas in Kuala Langat. The signing ceremony was held between Worldwide Holdings and Western Power in Shah Alam.

Lam said the state government should prioritise waste separation among the public first before building an incinerator.

KTI chairman Lee Chong Tek said they were against the incinerator project as residents were not well informed on the adverse effects of the plant.

"There are many unanswered questions, like will it affect the waste management fee and assessment rate for residents?"

"Will the incinerator be for the sole purpose of burning plastic waste from factories that import plastic waste?" he asked.

Lee also raised concerns on the transparency of the tender agreement as Worldwide Holdings is wholly-owned by Selangor and in collaboration with a China-based consortium.

He added that they would meet with the locals in Jeram to discuss the issue so they are well informed about the project.

Show of thanks for going green

MBPJ gives recognition to environmentally-friendly buildings

By EMBREN BATRISYIA ZAINOURUDIN
metro@thestar.com.my

THE annual Anugerah Bangunan Hijau is a form of acknowledgement by Petaling Jaya City Council (MBPJ) of environmentally-friendly building concepts and practices.

A total of six commercial and six multilevel residential buildings were recognised at the Bangunan Ceria programme ceremony in Dewan Sivik, Petaling Jaya.

Submissions were judged based on the adoption of the Green Building Index (GBI) rating system namely, energy efficiency, indoor environmental quality, sustainability and management, materials and resources, water efficiency as well as innovation.

MBPJ deputy mayor Johari Anuar said the awards acknowledged those who had complied with the council's GBI regulations.

"We hope it will encourage other industry players to adopt environmentally-friendly features in their designs."

He added that other green initiatives by MBPJ included assisting seven schools to utilise rainwater harvesting and utilisation systems.

Evaluation panel chief Serina Hijas said many cities around the world had committed to constructing carbon neutral buildings by 2030.

"MBPJ's initiatives towards a greener nation is a timely response towards climate change and the rise in carbon emissions," she said.

A total of 10 commercial and eight multilevel residential buildings were entered for evaluation.

Commercial building winners were Centerstages Services Suite Block B (energy efficiency), Menara OBYU Point 92 (indoor environmental quality as well as sustainability and management), Avenue De Vogue (water efficiency) and Dialog Tower (innovation).

Tropicana Garden Bayberry (energy efficiency and innovation), Ara Green (indoor environmental quality), Arnica Services Apartment (sustainability and management), Verde @ Ara Damansara (water efficiency) emerged as winners for multilevel residential buildings.

All winners were presented with cheques for RM2,000 and certificates of achievement.

Towards a new era in innovation

Electronics and electrical product maker opens three new facilities to mark 50 years in Malaysia

By ERIC QUAH
metro@thestar.com.my

PANASONIC Manufacturing Malaysia Bhd's (PMMA) celebrated the completion of three new facilities in conjunction with its 50-year presence in Malaysia and 100th anniversary at a grand opening ceremony with the theme of "Towards A New Era".

The event, held at PMMA in Shah Alam, was launched by Selangor Menteri Besar Amirudin Shari and Deputy International Trade and Industry Minister Dr Ong Kian Ming.

Also present were Malaysian Investment Development Authority (Mida) chief executive officer Datuk Azman Mahmud, International Trade and Industry Ministry secretary-general Datuk Isham Ishak, Japanese ambassador to Malaysia Dr Makio Miyagawa and Panasonic's management team.

The three new facilities are PMMA's new administration building, Panasonic Appliances Research and Development Centre Asia Pacific Sdn Bhd (Papradap) and Panasonic Appliances Air-Conditioning Malaysia Sdn Bhd (Papamy).

The event started with a video chronicling Panasonic's beginnings and its 50-year journey in Malaysia, as well as the latest facility additions.

In his welcome speech, Panasonic Corporation chief executive officer and senior managing executive officer Tetsuro Homma said, "For the past 100 years, Panasonic has constantly strived to create a convenient, comfortable and safe society.

"Today, Panasonic embarks on a new era that strives even harder for sustainable living and advanced technological innovation.

"For the next 100 years, Panasonic will engage in and realise our vision of 'one-to-one lifestyle updates' whereby we will evolve from 'individual-oriented' to 'lifestyle-oriented', and create lifestyles for the next century."

Meanwhile, Amirudin said, "In years to come, we are expecting the company to fully utilise its ground-breaking technology and exceptional engineering expertise to deliver innovation across diverse industries in all fields, creating a better day-to-day experience for its customers."

He also said that the Selangor government through Invest Selangor Bhd would continue promoting domestic and foreign investment into the manufacturing and services sector in the state.

"It is our goal to maintain a most competitive environment for sustainable business growth and success," he added.

Invest Selangor is a one-stop investment promotion agency that provides information and advisory services to potential and existing investors as well as assistance in setting up operations in Selangor.

Ong acknowledged Panasonic's contribution towards international trade and economic growth in Malaysia, saying the electronics and electrical industry has been the backbone for the manufacturing sector.

He also said Malaysia's response to the call for digital transformation in the trade sector and related services was the Malaysian National Industry 4.0 policy launched by Prime Minister Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad on Oct 31.

PMMA's new administration building is three storeys high and consists of two Panasonic companies, with the new administrative office on the first floor and Papradap's new R&D centre on the second.

With the relocation, PMMA aims to provide an open space where its people could work together in an atmosphere that inspires collaboration, improves productivity and sparks innovation.

At the same time, Papamy has a new warehouse and logistics hub located between the Papamy factory and port, spanning 68,562.4sq m and comprising 48 loading bays, enough for 130 containers at a time.

Both sides in the Gombak League final were equally matched on the pitch.

Players from both sides could not find a breakthrough even during extra time as the match had to be settled on penalties.

Underdogs clinch inaugural title on penalty kicks thanks to reserve goalkeeper

By C.Y. LEE
chenyoong@thestar.com.my

UNDERDOGS Anak Muda Gombak (AMG FC) shredded the form book to clinch the Piala Datuk Menteri Besar Selangor and emerge as inaugural champions of the 2018 Gombak League.

AMG FC won their tie against Selayang Municipal Council Football Team (MPS FC) after edging them out in a nail-biting penalty 3-2 shootout.

The match saw AMG FC's reserve goalkeeper Wan Muhammad Nizar Wan Rafiee save three spotkicks to emerge the hero for his side.

Regulation time yielded one goal a piece from both sides, courtesy of AMG's Muhammad Ammar Shafiq Riduan in the 32nd minute and Muhammad Nazrien Faizal Azmi in the 61st minute.

Both sides had their chances in extra time, although AMG squandered more chances than their opponent who were more experienced but could not find their way past the resolute AMG defence.

During the spotkicks, AMG had to endure hitting the woodwork and having a penalty saved by the MPS keeper, but at the end, were able to rejoice thanks to Nizar's brilliance.

While not the first-choice keeper, Nizar had to assume the mantle as AMG's main custodian in goal was suspended for the finals after picking up two yellow cards in earlier matches.

Nizar, a former state goalkeeper, however, had it all under control, denying MPS's first two spot kicks and the last shot which sent the whole team rushing to embrace him.

Nizar, by his own admission, said he was shocked by his own performance and had never saved as many penalty kicks before this.

"I think it was because I felt I had underperformed during the match and had to make up for it. This was on top of the encouragement my teammates and the supporters gave me during the shootout."

AMG team manager Ahmad Zahid was overjoyed with the result, especially since the team was formed solely to take part in the league this year.

"Anak Muda Gombak is actually an NGO which focuses on activities for youths who live in Gombak. When we heard the Menteri Besar was forming the league, we formed the team by finding whoever was interested and gave them a chance.

"The players did very well in the match; they were disciplined and kept their emotions in check and demonstrated good team spirit and good team work, which was the most important thing.

"We are not like other football teams with an allocated budget and manpower for the team. But we are so happy with the success after putting in the hard work," said Ahmad.

The final, which was played at the new MPAJ Stadium in Kuala Lumpur with Selangor Menteri Besar Amirudin Shari in attendance, was the culmination of the Gombak League's maiden two-month season featuring 16 teams and over 400 players.

Along with the challenge trophy, AMG took home RM7,000 cash while MPS had to settle for second spot and the RM4,000 that came with it.

Amirudin said in addition to the Gombak League, more can be done to create additional tournaments for "semi-pro" teams which are able to produce quality players for the state and national teams.

"One of the things which we lack is a training system for players and coaches, whom we also need to identify from a young age.

"This is why the state government through the state sports council formed the Akademi Merah Kuning two years ago with the cooperation of district associations, clubs and former football players.

He added that the academy started with about 200 players then, and has since attracted 800 players of various ages around Selangor who will eventually be channelled into the various state programmes from Under-16 and upwards.

"I believe that this endeavour by Gombak FA will be able to educate, train and produce players of high calibre for state and country.

Gombak FA committee member Mohd Azahari Daud said the league which was formed to unearth football talents had received overwhelming interest from numerous teams, but had to turn away many of them due to time constraints.

"We were still able to see many teams who have talented players, and this is great for their exposure.

"Overall, the league has been a success even though we started small.

"It has been a great learning experience for us, and we are looking forward to growing the league in the coming years," he concluded.

Khalid patut rujuk kerajaan negeri dahulu

Shah Alam: Ahli Parlimen Shah Alam Khalid Abdul Samad, seharusnya merujuk kepada kerajaan negeri terlebih dahulu sebelum membuat kenyataan berkaitan pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan terutama apabila membabitkan Shah Alam.

Setiasaha Politik kepada Menteri Besar Selangor Borhan Aman Shah berkata, ia berikutan bandar raya ini adalah pusat pentadbiran negeri.

Wilayah Persekutuan yang mahu menjadikan Shah Alam sebagai kawasan uji kaji bagi pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan.

“Kedudukan beliau selaku Ahli Parlimen kawasan ini diakui, justeru adalah bersesuaian seperti yang saya nyatakan di atas agar beliau merujuk kerajaan negeri terlebih dahulu kerana ia membabitkan banyak pihak termasuk pihak penjawat awam,” katanya.

Beliau berkata, Menteri Besar Amirudin Shaari juga mengambil maklum saranan Perdana Menteri Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad untuk tidak melaksanakan pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan.

Jelasnya, Amirudin juga

menyambut baik usaha Menteri Kementerian Perumahan dan Kerajaan Tempatan (KPKT) Zuraida Kamaruddin yang mahu mengadakan suatu kajian komprehensif berkaitan pelaksanaan pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan.

“Saya berharap agar semua pihak lebih bertanggungjawab sebelum mengeluarkan sebarang kenyataan yang membabitkan kesejahteraan rakyat,” katanya.

'Rujuk kerajaan negeri sebelum keluar kenyataan'

SHAH ALAM - Menteri Wilayah, Khalid Abdul Samad digesa merujuk kepada kerajaan negeri terlebih dahulu sebelum mengeluarkan apa-apa kenyataan berkaitan pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan.

Setiausaha Politik Menteri Besar Selangor, Borhan Aman Shah berkata, Khalid sebelum ini dilapor mahu menjadikan bandar raya Shah Alam sebagai kawasan uji kaji bagi pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan Menurutnya, Ahli Parlimen Shah Alam itu sepatutnya merujuk kepada kerajaan negeri kerana kawasan dinyatakan membabitkan Shah Alam yang merupakan pusat pentadbiran Negeri Selangor.

"Kedudukan beliau (Khalid) sebagai ahli Parlimen kawasan tersebut diakui, namun beliau perlu rujuk dulu kepada kerajaan negeri berhubung perkara itu kerana ia melibatkan banyak pihak termasuklah penjawat awam," katanya dalam satu kenyataan, semalam.

Dalam pada itu, beliau berkata, Menteri Besar, Amirudin Shari mengambil maklum saranan Perdana Menteri, Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad untuk tidak melaksanakan pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan.

Menurutnya, Amirudin juga menyambut baik usaha Menteri Kementerian Peru-mahan dan Kerajaan Tempatan, Zuraida Kamaruddin yang mahu mengadakan suatu kajian komprehensif berkaitan pelaksanaan perkara itu.

"Saya harap semua pihak lebih bertanggungjawab sebelum keluar sebarang kenyataan melibatkan kesejahteraan rakyat Selangor. Kerajaan negeri komited untuk tingkatkan sosio-ekonomi rakyat di samping menge-kalkan kesentosaan negeri ini," katanya.

Terdahulu, Khalid dilapor berkata, pilihan raya majlis kerajaan tempatan boleh diuji bermula di Shah Alam walau ada kegusaran mengenai keseimbangan kaum.

Memetik laporan berita portal, beliau berkata, proses memilih ahli majlis tempatan termasuk datuk bandarnya tidak wajar dibuat sewenang-wenangnya.

Beliau berharap pilihan raya pihak berkuasa tempatan boleh diadakan di Shah Alam, kawasan di mana penduduknya sedikit selesa, tiada tempat yang didakwanya boleh memainkan isu perkauman.

Bagaimanapun, sebelum ini Mahathir mengatakan kerajaan tidak merancang untuk mengadakan pilihan raya PBT berikutan kebimbangan kemungkinan persepilihan komuniti antara kawasan luar bandar dan bandar.

Pondok buruk jadi tempat berteduh

Tujuh beranak tinggal dalam di ladang kelapa sawit kerana kesempitan hidup

SERENDAH

Amat menyedihkan apabila rumah yang didiami tujuh beranak hanya berdingkan kanvas, berbumbung zink serta berasaskan kayu terpakai.

Tinjauan Sinar Harian mendapati, Mohammad Ashraf Gopi Abdullah, 42, dan keluarganya pasrah untuk di tinggal di ladang kelapa sawit kerana kesempitan hidup.

Dia dan isteri Rosnah Pinning, 33, serta lima anak memilih untuk berteduh di ladang kelapa sawit dekat Air Terjun Serendah selepas mendapat ihsan dari tuan ladang berkenaan.

Mohammad Ashraf berkata, dia berketurunan india dibesarkan di rumah perlindungan kanak-kanak sehingga berusia 18 tahun sebelum bekerja sebagai kelindan lori.

Menurutnya, ketika berusia 28 tahun, dia berkahwin dengan gadis pilihan dari Kampung Orang Asli Serendah dengan menetap di sebuah pondok yang dibina di kawasan tempat kerja dekat Pekan Serendah.

Isteri bersalin dalam pondok

"Anak sulung, Nadia dilahirkan di pondok berkenaan yang disambut ibu mertua pada waktu malam sebelum dirujuk ke hospital keesokan harinya.

"Masa itu saya tak tahu macam

mana nak buat surat beranak dan selepas dua bulan, baru saya ke pejabat pendaftaran tapi banyak bo-rang kena isi tapi saya tak faham.

"Nadia sekarang sudah berusia 13 tahun dan tiada surat beranak selain tidak pernah bersekolah," katanya.

Mohammad Ashraf berkata, anak kedua, Ahmad Zakuan, 12, mempunyai surat beranak dan bersekolah serta akan memasuki sebuah sekolah berasrama di Shah Alam tahun depan atas usaha seorang hamba Allah.

Kena halau sebab tak boleh bayar sewa

Menurutnya, pada 2010, dia dan isteri memeluk Islam namun terpaksa berhenti kerja berikutan kecederaan dialami.

"Terjatuh semasa angkat simen ke tingkat tiga dan lutut tak lagi kuat untuk buat kerja berat.

"Tiada pilihan lain, saya cari besi buruk bagi menampung perbelan-

"Saya kemudian ada menyewa rumah tapi sebab tak mampu bayar, saya terpaksa keluar dan menumpang di sebuah kuarters terbiar," katanya.

Mohammad Ashraf berkata, dia dikurniakan tiga lagi anak, Nurhayati, 10, dan Ahmad Shahir, 7, serta Ahmad Idham, 6.

Menurutnya, keluarga itu terpaksa mencari penempatan baru selepas bangunan kuarters tersebut dirobohkan untuk pembangunan semula.

"Kami kembali ke kampung isteri dan buat pondok dalam ladang sawit di pintu masuk ke kawasan air terjun.

"Tokey (pengusaha) kawasan ini memberi saya kerja sebagai penjaga parkir yang difahamkan di bawah pihak berkuasa tempatan (PBT) dengan gaji RM800 sebulan.

"Saya cari kayu dan buluh di hutan manakala tokey bagi kanvas untuk buat atap serta dinding... saya baharu tiga minggu tinggal di sini," katanya.

Anak sulung tiada surat beranak

Mohammad Ashraf berkata, hanya anak sulung tidak mempunyai surat beranak dan tercirit dari pendidikan manakala anak kedua dan ketiga bersekolah di Sekolah Kebangsaan (SK) Serendah.

Menurutnya, anak keempat akan memasuki darjah satu dan bongsu ke tadika pada tahun depan.

"Sebab baru tiga minggu bekerja, jadi belum dapat gaji dan buat masa sekarang saya masih mencari besi buruk untuk tampung keluarga.

"Ketua kampung yang saya panggil Pak Din banyak membantu dan seorang anggota polis berpangkat sarjan, Pak Cik Mat yang sentiasa tolong.

"Motosikal buruk ini pun majikan lama bagi, tak ada cukai jalan.. basikal pun orang bagi, dan lima hari lepas, Pak Cik Mat tolong masukkan siaran televisyen berbayar," katanya.

Mohammad Ashraf berkata, bekalan elektrik disambung dari pondok pengawal di pintu masuk air terjun manakala air sungai untuk kegunaan mandi dan membasuh pakaian serta pinggan mangkuk.

Orang ramai yang ingin menghulurkan sumbangan boleh berbuat demikian melalui akaun Bank Islam bernombor 08068020562121 atas nama Rosnah.

Adun bantu keluarga

Nasib dialami tujuh beranak itu mendapat perhatian Adun Batang Kali, Harumaini Omar yang berkunjung ke pondok berkenaan kelmarin bersama pegawai agensi berkaitan termasuk Jabatan Kebajikan Masyarakat (JKM).

Harumaini berkata, pihaknya berhasrat mencari sebuah rumah sewa yang berseesuaian untuk keluarga berkenaan.

Menurutnya, pada masa sama, usaha bagi membina sebuah rumah baru akan dilaksanakan melalui perbincangan dengan pihak Lembaga Zakat Selangor (LZS).

"Kita akan meneliti bantuan sewajarnya bagi meringankan beban keluarga terabit demi masa depan dan kesejahteraan anak-anak agar tidak tercirit dari aspek pendidikan kerana ianya amat penting," katanya.

Air tadahan hujan dan sungai digunakan untuk keperluan harian.
